BY LARRY RUE
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE)

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Europe is on the brink of another Thirty Years' War. The viol tionalism which is threatening to overwhelm the German government, coupled with the new movement headed by Albert Korfanty in Upper Silesia for the recovery of territory which the League of Nations ceded to Germany, is threatening to precipitate an intricate combination of wars embracing all the countries from Moscow to Paris and between the Baltic Sea and the Mediterranean.

HIGHLANDS (N. J.) Jan. 12.—
Government craft were reported tonisht by bootleggars shouts to be keeping a sharp watch on watch on watch on the Highlands, and runnars who last night were smugging liquor ashore from a fact massed off Ambress Channel.

Already Korfanty's newspapers in Poland are whipping Nationalism into flame, asserting that now is the time to take back the portion of Upper Silesia which the League of Nations coded to Germany. The German Nationalism in the district aiready have begun preparations for their defense.

K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, affirmed the right of the majors to enforce their new plan of action, asserting he believed the majors had a right to "protect the player in his right of advancement."

Then the minor-league presidents chorused their objections. William McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League said his organization would act independently should the majors violate the major-minor agreement covering draft players.

President Al Tearney of the Three-I League wired virtually all minor heads urging them to indicate to Mixe Sexton, president of the minor association, their desire to take immediate action for defense against the majors' new plan.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, now in Los Angeles, announced that clubs in his organization had been warned not to deal with the majors if they persisted in their present attitude. He said he would bar from the association any player who came in violation of his order.

down to beat Settle, the newest irwin acquisition in the sixth race, a high-class aprint for platers, at Tijuans this afternoon. The winner just managed to shove her nose in front of Settle just at the wire. Ralls, however, incurred the displeasure of the stewards for crossing ever in front of the field at the start of the race, and was set down for five days. This little rider is the star of the present meet, leading his nearest competitor by 12 wins.

Three noses were on the wire at the conclusion of the third race, Barriskane the popular choice, getting the verdict over the Outsider, Count Boris. The odds-on choice, Hamilton A, was beaten by a length by Mayflewer, a sleeper, which came over in the final race at fat odds.

bends over as though about to return thanks, and the cats are served to her by a bload lady. Mrs. M. Thompson Barber, with badly lacerated knuckles. Some of the cats object to being served table d'hote and fight back at the wrists and knuckles of the blond cream-colored lady. Sometimes when she is engaged in mortal combat with a blond cat, it is difficult to distinguish which is which. Next winter the cats will be served with mittens, or in a straight jacket.

After the bones have been sorted out and examined, in case none of them are missing, the judge passes along to the skull and its conformation. A skull without conformation is rated as deficient. With a cat it is the skull and not what is inside of it that counts. Few cats are intellectual giants, but most of them have a skull which is de luxe. These skulls are an adornment to any home whether in their pristine fussy state, or nicely polished and placed on the mantle. Having found that the skull conforms. Then a front view is taken of to wheel base and universal joints.

Then a front view is taken of the eyes and ears to make sure that all of them are there. Color and position of the eyes count. The eyes should harmonize with the general color scheme of the cat. By position is meant' that they must be located in front of the head, like set of Ford dimmers. Also, under new traffic rules, regulating nocturnal navigation of back-yard fences, each cat is supposed to carry a tail light on dark nights. That is, with exception of Manx cats, which are absolved from this requirement, because nature provided them with me handle on which to hang such a light. The milk-lapping pussy has largely gone out of fashion. They are for the most part meat-eating cats. But the modern, long-haired, pampered cline will not catch mice. As I say, I have always had a coft spot in my heart for the fresh youngster. I guess it was because if was that way myself, and I can understand them. They don't realist if y mean to be impudent or disressive for action simply bubbles out of them. To kill that spirit would be a fatel mi.take. At the same time they've got to be checked and put in their places occasionally.

I guess Henry Fabian is right when he says I was as fresh and cocky as green paint when I showed up there at Cedar Rapida. I thought I had something on the rest of the fellows because I had been to Cubs.

The very first game I played for Cedar Rapids was against Anson's Chicago Coits. At that time "Cap" Anson was probably the most famous man in baseball. The Chicago club was on the way home from a training trip to Deaver. They stopped off and played an exhibition game with us.

It was the first time I had played in a class that I thought I was entitled to. I made up my mind that I would show up that big league club and I felt confident that I could do so.

Bill Hutchinson, one of the best pitchers ever turned out by Tale University, was pitching for Chicago, and I got the first crack at him—a clean single.

"Bay, old timer," I said to the famous "Cap" Anson, as I ran past him, "so, that's what you call big league pitching, sh? We'll murder that fellow."

By way of variety in starchy vegetables try the good old southern dish of hominy grits. If you are a Southerner yourself you know that "hominy" is the popular term for the fine ground grits and "samp" the one most commonly used for the large or coarse kernels. "Hominy grits" tells the whole story, and this is the best form to use in place of potatoes or rice as a vegetable or as a breakfast cereal.

CALLED BONDS

Message from Bloudy

Signal Hill, Calif., Jan. 13th

Dollars man power casing machinery juice gas water time tide - railroads can't stop us. We're headed downward through soil and sand, rock and shale right on through H- to China-

We think it's there—We hope it's there—We're GOING to find out. CALIFORNIAN and CALIFORNIAN PREFERRED'S great fish-tails and disc bits—inch by inch—foot by foot are biting their way downward. PREFERRED struck a solid bed of shale at 4055 feet Thursday. Nearest producers are getting oil at 4300 feet. We don't expect it before that depth—but you can't always tell.

THE FIRST COLOR-

At 2675 feet we got the first color—YES, OIL—a thick saturation of it showed up. If No. 2 down't come in as one of Signal Hill's master wells in a few moons—there's saturabling wrong with the world. Keep your eye on No. 2.

Any other crew than Harry Failing's would have ruined CALIFORNIAN No. 1 long ago. We'll wager a heap on that. She's comented now—with 61/4-in. casing at 3627 feet. We'll soon be drilling out the plugand then we'll drive her two or three or four hundred feet deeper.

We feel about CALIFORNIAN NO. I something like a loving mother does about an usruly, wayward child. Mother doesn't give up hope, does she, when the child goes had? She doesn't spank her—and turn her out into the cold, cruel world? Not much. She just wipes away a year, puts on a smile, and places a heap of faith in Him that sent the child—and in the end—well, you know the story—probably you were one of those kind of kids—like me.

THAT'S HOW WE FEEL ABOUT CALIFORNIAN ONE.

I just want you to know the FOSTERS are on the job, like they always have been—like they always will be —to the last dollar—to the last ounce of energy within them.

We agreed to drill CALIFORNIAN PREFERRED to 4000 feet. We're past that depth now but are we stopping? We've fulfilled our agreement—did it before you put up your money—but we're not going to stop just because of that. We're not quitters—you know that and that's why you are with us—that's why you're going to be with us again soon.

THE MEN WHO HELPED FORD

You know the men who helped Henry Ford. You remember the regular fellows who boosted Bell a Edison, Woolworth, Marshall Field, Rockefeller—and a thousand more. Did it pay? It's the men, a women who do these things—WHO HAVE THE FAITH—WHO KEEP THE FAITH—WHO WIN.

If you're that kind of a man—if you're that kind of a woman—we want you on our side. The game's TOO BIG and WONDERFUL and PROFITABLE to be played by anyone less than kings.

In just a few days-maybe only a few hours-we'll tell you all about it. In the mounting

For Those Who Favor Cremation

The growing use of the manusoleum by these who favor oremation rather than crypt burial has prompted the builders of Hollywood Manusoleum to provide a beautiful panel of niches for the reception of urns. This panel forms a part of the chapel and is an appropriate addition to the service which the manusoleum renders.

This group of marble-lined niches is faced with beveted plate glass and solid bronze frames. Crystal vaces are affixed to the frame of each niche. The entire panel is thus a picture of the devotion which those who are left behind feel toward their loved ones.

The urns for these niches are specially designed bronse and are engraved with the names of those to who they stand in silent yet exquisite tributs. The subscribt to those niches may make his own selection from urns of display in our offices.

This was the opinion of Nick Harris of the Nick Harris of the Nick Harris detective agency, expressed yesterday afternoon at a luncheon of the Exchange Club, Paulais banquet hall, 745 South Broadway. Asserting that no one is better aware of the fact that crime does not pay than the criminal himself, Harris said, that if civic institutions and such clubs as the Exchange Club would give more attention to finding work for the unemployed, men and women would foreske unlawful means of supporting themselves.

"There are two great causes for crime." Harris continued: "First, inborn criminal tendencies and deformities, both mental and physical, which impel victims of such afflictions into criminal paths. Second, lack of employment which forces men and women to turn unlawful practices. The first cause must be removed with the help of science. The second is the concern of such men as are members of this club. Give the average man a good job, and he will be honest."

Cumberland Presbyterians to Lay Corner-stone Tomorrow; Sermon Topics Announced

Rejoicing over the fast that they have already raised more than half of the $12.000 to be used in the construction of a new home of worship, members of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church will conduct a celebration tomorrow, the chief feature of which will be the corner-stone laying ceremonies at 11 a.m.

Trev Pace, riging Edder in the congregation, will make the principal address and he will be assisted in the service by Rev. Charles H. Walton, the pastor, and by the musical talent of the church.

The new charch, which will be an indicated the congregation has a romantic history and is the mother of nearly all of the forty Presbyterian Church and South Hoover streets, is to be a white stuces edifica, with the main auditorium and Sunday school rooms capable of seating about 500 persons. The building will be finished early in March.

axpects to end his life in San Quentin prison.

"I'd as soon die in the big house as anywhere else," he said. "I'm through in a year, anyway. I won't last long. I'm dying on my feet now. The pen will be my finish."

Donald changed his plea from not guilty to guilty of robbery of John H. Jackson, in charge of an oil station at 1132 West Thirty-fifth street, of eash and gasoline books valued at 3852 on September 28. He told the court that he was suffering from an incurable malady, that he had hoped either to each his career with "his boots on," or to get enough monay to live comfortably the rest of his life. Love of the clothes, good cigars and poker on the part of her husband, wresteld her marital happeness, Mrs. Marie A Banning testified in Judge Summerdeld's court, where he was granted a divorce from W. B. Banning, said to be a wealthy oil promoter.

Mrs. Banning charged that her husband deserted her and their child without leaving them a "cent for support." In order to provide for herself and her child, Mrs. Banning took a business course and then went to work. She told the court she did not want any alimeny as she could support herself, but saked that her husband be forced to contribute toward educating their child.
